About

PL Tilers Ltd is a London-based company offering professional tiling services. Our work is our passion. We share it with you by offering quality, originality and highest finnish for every project.

For me the aesthetic effect is a really important element which I always seek for! My love of art accompanied me since youth. I have studied art and received a degree in graphic design. After graduating, I've learned tiling and have been developing my passion over many years, at first under my father's supervision and later as an independent tiler. PL Tilers Ltd. is a family business which has been dealing with tiling for over 38 years and has over 2,000 completed projects in and around London. In my work, I strive to find the best combination of colours, shapes and lightness of composition. I crave to emphasize the qualities of the room and therefore change the typical into the unique and refined. The main goal and ambition of PL Tilers is to implement interior designs not only at the highest level of performance, but also to create innovative and artistic interiors.
